Helping you find safer and quieter routes for exploring the Black Isle by bike Transition Black Isle aims to encourage more people to cycle around our beautiful peninsula. Our community mapping endeavours during the million miles project have produced several useful tools to highlight safer routes that avoid busier roads.

Route 1  Cromarty - Culbokie

Take the on-road route along the shore for the chance to see wildlife in the Cromarty Firth.

Alternatively, take the quieter route along the forest tracks across the spine of the peninsula before enjoying spectacular views from the Eathie Road.

These Community Cycle Links have been produced by Lachlan McKeggie and Peter Elbourne as part of Transition Black Isle’s Million Miles project. Funded by the Scottish Government’s Climate Challenge Fund between 2012 and 2015, the project helped Black Isle households discover the joys of safer, greener, healthier and more sociable ways of travelling.

This route starts at the Culbokie recreation ground car park. Take the path on the west side of the car park through the woods. Pass the cross roads and turn left at the next junction, then almost immediately right onto a narrow track. Turn right on to the road, continue round the bend and up the hill.

Where the road bends round to the right, head straight ahead off the tarmac. Once in the woods, follow the narrow track straight ahead up the hill. Join a wider track and follow to the end. Turn left at the T junction onto the Old Military Road and continue up the hill. Cross straight over the road. At the five-way junction, with two tracks on the left, take the second left (with no gate) up the hill. At the cross roads, turn right around the gate. Follow the track around to the left and on towards the east.
