Helping you find safer and quieter routes for exploring the Black Isle by bike

Transition Black Isle aims to encourage more people to cycle around our beautiful peninsula. Our community mapping endeavours during the million miles project have produced several useful tools to highlight safer routes that avoid busier roads.

Starting at the car park by the village shop 1, head straight over the High Street up School Brae and follow the road. Cycle around a sharp left bend 2 and continue along the road past the turn to Fortrose 3. Turn left at the T junction 4, through Killen and along the road. 5 Turn right at the staggered crossroads and cycle over the hill. After Braefindon, turn left into Culbokie 6 and the recreation ground car park is on the left 7.

Avoch to Culbokie via Killen and Braefindon

- All on-road: 50 - 75 minutes
- Distance: 13 km / 8 miles

Fortrose connection

From Fortrose, head up Church Street and along the road past Feddon Hill. Meet the Avoch route at the junction 3, turning right towards Killen.

Culbokie to Avoch via the Old Military Road and Rosehaugh

- Off-road sections (suitable for hybrid bikes)
- Time: 55 - 80 minutes
- Distance: 14 km / 8.5 miles

Follow the track round to the right onto the hardcore track. Follow round to the left, go around a gate, into the wood and up the hill. 18 Go around the gate and straight down the hill by Keepers Cottage. Go round a sharp right bend on tar road. 19 Turn left just before the bridge, continue along this track right through to Avoch and follow the road.

20 Turn right onto School Brae, go down the hill and into the centre of Avoch 1.
